

Dr Angele Pulis – Lecturer

📞 +356 2598 3635

✉ Send Email

Biography

Dr Angele Pulis is a full-time lecturer at Institute for Education. She is the chairperson of the Research Ethics Board. She holds a PhD from the University of Leicester where her research area focused on the role of pupils as assessors in quality assurance of schools in Malta. She holds a Master in Philosophy from the University of Wales; and a Post Graduate Diploma in Educational Administration and Management, and a first degree B.Ed (Hons) from the University of Malta. Her career in schools spanned over two decades and included various roles. She was a Head of a Primary school and an Assistant head in both a sixth form and a secondary school. She has taught Integrated Science, Biology and Chemistry in various secondary schools, and has also taught Biology in a sixth form. Her research domains include: educational leadership, quality assurance of schools, pupil voice and mixed methods research.

Main Publications

Brown, M., Gauci, P., Pulis, A., & Scerri, R. (2015). Professional development of teachers at Malta's Giovanni Curmi Higher Secondary School: contributions from a stake-holding think tank. Malta Review for Educational Research, 9(1), (137-170).

<https://www.um.edu.mt/library/oar//handle/123456789/20659>

Pulis, A. (2016, April 29). Pupil voice in quality assurance of schools.

<https://www.bera.ac.uk/blog/pupil-voice-in-quality-assurance-of-schools>

Pulis, A. (2018). Pupils as assessors in quality assurance of schools in Malta. Management in Education, 32(1), (40-47).

<https://doi.org/10.1177/0892020617748152>

Pulis, A. (2018). (2018, August 26) Pupils as assessors in quality assurance of schools. Times of Malta.

<https://timesofmalta.com/articles/view/pupils-as-assessors-in-quality-assurance-of-schools.687657>